

A STAR IS BORN

JACK

You smell good.

ALLY

(laughs) You smell good . And you look good too.

JACK

Swimming, I've been swimming.

ALLY

You've been swimming?

JACK

Yeah, there's a pool.

ALLY

I love that's you're swimming. It's a great pool there.

JACK

Yeah. How's Charlie?

ALLY

Oh, Charlie's sweet, he just sort of sits by the door like this, waiting for daddy. We're both waiting for daddy.

JACK

In three weeks.

ALLY

You are gonna come back, right?

JACK

What do you mean?

ALLY

You gonna come home when you're done.

JACK

Do you not want me to?

ALLY

No. I want you to. I'm just wondering, I just -

JACK

Where else would I go?

ALLY

I don't know, I guess I just thought you know, it's like there's Jack –

JACK

Why would you, wait, wait wait, wait, wait, wait, wait, why would you say that?

ALLY

I don't know. I guess, I wondered without the booze, you know, if you would want to come home. Cause when you met me you were drinking and now you're not.

JACK

I wasn't drunk the whole time we were together.

ALLY

I know but, but it got bad when we were together. It's OK. I mean it's fine. I just was, I just was wondering. That's all. And, whatever you want is OK.

JACK

Whatever I want? What do you- I want to be with you. That's why I'm here.

ALLY

OK. I know. I know. I just want you to be happy.

JACK

I'm working on that. I need to stick with you.

ALLY

I brought something. I wanna know what this is, my love. You hiding love songs?

JACK

No, I wouldn't, I wouldn't say I was hiding it. I just, started putting it down on paper when we were at home. I don't know. Just sort of fell out of me, I guess, and onto this page. And I put it in here and I thought, thought maybe you'd find it when, when it came back to you, maybe.

ALLY

Well, I found it.

JACK.

Listen, I'm uh, I'm sorry, I –

ALLY

It's OK. It's OK, it's not your fault.

JACK

I'm sorry I did that.

ALLY

It's OK. It's not your fault. It's a disease.

JACK

No, but I embarrassed you. I embarrassed you.

ALLY

I'm not embarrassed of you.

JACK

It's so wrong. And then your- and then your dad.

ALLY

My father loves you. It's OK.

JACK

I know but I –

ALLY

It's OK.

JACK

I know but-

It's OK. It's OK.
