

OFFICE SPACE

Joanna: Hi

Peter: Hey

J: I wonder if I am allowed to, uh, wear this in here?

P: I think it would be okay.... Would you like to sit down?

J: Okay... Ahh. Wow. This place is really...nice

P: Yeah, is it?

J: Yeah, my god, compared to chotchkies! I like the uniforms better, anyways.

P: I like yours.

J: ugh!

P: We're not in Kansas anymore

J: Yeah. Really.. haha

P: It's on your...

J: Oh! Yeah. That's... uh that's one of my pieces of flair.

P : What's a piece of flair?

J: Oh, its, uh, where you know, like these suspenders and, uh, buttons, theyre all sort of...We're actually required to wear..um, fifteen pieces of flair. It's really stupid, actually.

P: Do you get to pick them yourself?

J: Yeah, yeah we do. Although I didn't actually choose these. I just sort of grabbed you know, fifteen buttons. I don't even know what they say. I don't really care. I don't really like talking about my flair.

P: OK

J: So, where do you, work, Peter?

P: Initech.

J: And yeah? What do you do there?

P: I sit in a cubicle. And I update bank software for the 2000 switch.

J: What's that?

P: Well, see, they wrote all this bank software...and uh, to save space.. they use two digits for the date instead of four. So like 98 instead of 1998. Uh, so I go through these thousands of lines of code... and uh... it doesn't really matter. I, uh, I don't really like my job and, uh I don't think I'm going to go anymore.

J: You're just not gonna go?

P: Yeah

J: Won't you get fired?

P: I don't know. But I really don't like it, and, uh, I'm not gonna go.

J: So you're going to quit?

P: Nah-uh. Not really. Uh...I'm just gonna stop going.

J: What? Uh, when did you decide all of that?

P: About an hour ago.

J: Oh really? An hour ago... So you're gonna get another job?

P: I don't think I would like another job.

J: Well, what are you going to do about money and bills and..

P: You know, I've never really liked paying bills. I don't think I'm gonna do that, either.

J: haha.. Ahh.. Well, so what do you want to do?

P: I want to take you out to dinner... and then I want to go back to my apartment and watch Kung Fu. Do you ever watch Kung Fu?

J: I love Kung Fu

P: Channel 39

J: Totally.

P: You should come over and watch Kung Fu tonight.

J: OK

P: Great.

J: OK. Can we order lunch first?

P: Yeah

J: OK
